

EUDA Partners with Authorized Distributor of Guangdong Cell Biotech to Offer Stem Cell Therapies to Customers in Singapore and Malaysia

Apr 24, 2025

SINGAPORE, April 24, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EUDA Health Holdings Limited ("EUDA" or the "Company") (NASDAQ: EUDA), a Singapore-based property management services provider and a leading non-invasive healthcare provider in Singapore and Malaysia, today announced an update to the potential strategic partnership, previously announced in December 2024, with Guangdong Cell Biotech Co. Ltd. ("Guangdong Cell Biotech"). Guangdong Cell Biotech is a prominent player in stem cell therapies and regenerative medicine in China. It develops autologous cell treatments and tailored medicines for various disorders.

Instead of the initially contemplated joint venture, the parties have adopted a commercial distribution arrangement structure that better aligns with their respective operational models and regional market dynamics.

On April 22, 2025, CK Health Plus Sdn Bhd ("CK Health"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of EUDA and a direct seller of holistic wellness consumer products, signed a collaboration agreement with Guangdong Key Lock Health Management Co., Ltd. ("Keylock"), an authorized distributor of Guangdong Cell Biotech. Pursuant to this collaboration agreement, CK Health will market and sell to EUDA customers in Singapore and Malaysia stem cell therapies provided by Guangdong Cell Biotech in China.

This revised structure builds upon the original strategic intent of the parties to collaborate, giving EUDA access to Guangdong Cell Biotech's cutting-edge stem cell therapies and regenerative medicine.

"This commercial distribution structure showcases our strategy to diversify our business and revenue streams," said Mr. Alfred Lim, CEO of EUDA. "Combining our mission to expand access to holistic healthcare solutions in Southeast Asia with Guangdong Cell Biotech's established stem cell therapies, we aim to transform the health and wellness landscape in the region."
